DEDICATION: Freeman Pearlmutter

In appreciation of the many kindnesses he has shown—helping to guide us through three years of high school, advising us at Hi-Y meetings, directing our many successful class activities, and being a genuine friend—we, the Class of 1950, dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Freeman Pearlmutter.

WHEN ARE WE COMPLETELY EDUCATED?

Everyone is constantly striving to become better educated, and to obtain a more pleasing personality. Our elementary and high school educations give us a good start toward attaining these two goals.

If we are among the fortunate ones who will go to college, we will be continuing our preliminary education on a more specialized level. This education in college trains us for what might well be our life work. Still college is just a beginning for our real education which begins when we enter the world of business competition. It is then, that we leave the intimacy of our friends and relatives and go into the "big cold world."

A person's education begins in the primary group which is comprised of our family and friends acquired through close personal uniss like church and school. It is in the impersonal business world, however, where we receive our real education. If our primary education isn't sound, if we have not learned to get along with the family and with school friends, our minds will experience difficulty meeting these new challenges. It is very important in the business world of today that our mind be able to absorb and retain new principles and practices; also we must be able to adapt ourselves easily to new situations and new people. If we aren't able to do so, we can never hop to be happy.

In school we learn to develop personality. Many employers have said that they count personality very heavily when choosing a prospective employee. In selling positions especially, personality and learning ability are paramount to success.

To answer my original question, when are we completely educated, I say never. The reason I give this answer is that we are always learning. There is a saying "You can't teach an old dog new tricks," but there are two others to contradict this; "You are never too old to learn," and "You learn something new every day."

To have a well-rounded pleasing personality and an alert up-to-date thinking mind, we must keep our eyes and ears open every day. Acquiring knowledge is a life-long occupation. There is no limit to the amount of knowledge we may acquire. There is no time in our life when our education is complete. There is always something more to learn.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

The Class of 1950 held its first freshman meeting October 2, 1946 at 10:25 a.m. This meeting was called to order by Miss Marcia Zabriskie, class adviser, for the purpose of electing officers. The freshman officers were Nathan Rome, president; Armand Calderia, vice-president; Isabelle Baldwin, secretary; and Ann Nicolle, treasurer.

On February 14 the Freshmen had a Valentine's Day party planned by James Bonvouloir, Barbara Hockert, Harold Jackson, and Nancy Miller. The Homemaking Class provided refreshments. One of the features of the program was a duet "Little Annie Rooney" by Lillian Roth and Edward Gundersen.

During the year, our former gym teacher, Mrs. Faye Benson, gave the Freshmen ballroom dancing lessons. A Spring Frolic Dance for the entire school was sponsored by our class on March 21, 1947. The decoration committee, James Bonvouloir, Richard Burns, Catherine D'Addeo, Virginia Derench, Nancy Miller, Dorothy Prystula, Donald Robertson, and William Velhage carried out the theme of the dance with pastel streamers, a maypole and window box decorations. This dance, a success, adding $1.06 to the class treasury, was the final event of our Freshman year.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

The summer was soon over and we returned to school as sophomores. Our first meeting was on September 26 with Mr. Pearlmutter, our class adviser. At this meeting we elected our class officers and they were as follows: Edward Gundersen, President; Daniel Louro, Vice-President; Alma Davidson, Secretary; Anthony Louro, Treasurer.

Our second meeting was held in March for the purpose of discussing our annual dance which was called "The Irish Hop." The general committee for the dance was selected. They were Nancy Cawte, chairman, assisted by William Lotz, Richard Burns, Ann Nicolle, and Robert Milvae. The night finally came and the auditorium was gaily decorated with green and white trimmings. The centerpiece was a rock to represent the Blarney Stone. There were prizes awarded for such dances as the Balloon dance, Spot dance, and the Shamrock dance. The music was furnished by the "Cavaliers."

Our dues were important too. Don't think I have forgotten them. They were $1.00 a year. We had dues collectors in each room for the simple reason that we had a little trouble in collecting money. The collectors were Anthony Louro—room 6, Lois Pinney—room 5 and Armand Caldeira—room 9. Collecting dues was quite an ordeal for the collectors because it was "catch me if you can when I have the money."

Our sophomore year is one we will remember for many years to come. It is the year when we all think we have grown up to the point of adulthood and can carry on by ourselves.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY 1948-1949

At the start of our Junior year the class elected Armand Caldeira, president; Joan Plaza, vice-president; secretary, Barbara Duke; and Louis Rome, treasurer.

One of the highlights of the year was "The Meddlesome Maid," the annual Junior play with Armand Caldeira, Nancy Cawte, Edward Gundersen, Emily Machholz, Beverly Manion, Louis Rome, Nathan Rome, Winnie Willoughby, Ann Nicolle, and William Velhage as the cast.

Committee for choosing the class ring comprised Frank Burnham, Armand Caldeira, Edward Gundersen, Ann Nicolle, Theresa Chiarizia, and Winifred Willoughby.

Another highlight of the year, which was the first of its kind in B. H. S., was the "Hellzapoppin' Show," which was planned by Theresa Chiarizia and Ann Nicolle.

Several members of the Junior Class were admitted into the Honor Society. Nancy Cawte, Theresa Chiarizia, Gracemarie Harley and William Velhage were the ones who received this honor.

The Student Council members from our class were Nathan Rome, Vice-president; Barbara Duke, Secretary-Treasurer; Ann Nicolle and Armand Caldeira.

The business club with thirteen members from the Junior Class, elected Theresa Chiarizia as Vice-president and Lois Pinney as Treasurer.

The Girls' Athletic Association, the school's largest club, elected Isabelle Baldwin, Vice-president.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

The fall of 1949 and we returned for the last time to the halls of B.H.S. It didn't seem possible, but yet here we were — Seniors at last.

After having been in school for a few weeks, our first class meeting was held under the leadership of Mr. Pearlmutter, our advisor for three consecutive years. Our class officers were elected as follows: Leon Barnard—President; Louis Rome—Vice-President; Mary Magno—Secretary; and Armand Caldeira—Treasurer.

At a later meeting our class colors, motto, and flower were chosen. Our flower was to be the red carnation while our colors were green and gold and our motto "In ourselves our future lies."

Much tribute was paid to our outstanding soccer team who were runners-up for the state championship. Seniors on the team included: Captain Armand Caldeira, Scott Rome, and Dan Louro.

On November 23, our varsity cheerleaders gave the student body their opportunity to pay their respect to the team by presenting a sports dance. The senior cheerleaders on the committee were Captain Lois Pinney, Joan Plaza, Marie Williams, Dot Prystula, Emily Machholz, and Catherine D'Addeo. Lois Pinney and Armand Caldeira were elected king and queen of sports.

The faculty vs. varsity in a ghost basketball game was played off in the gym on December 9. The proceeds were for a worthy cause — THE TATTLER.

As part of the Christmas Assembly, members of the senior class presented a one act comedy under the direction of Miss Zabriskie. The cast included: Lillian Roth, Catherine D'Addeo, Nancy Cawte, Ted Harger, Bill Velhage, Armand Caldeira, and Paul Petersen.

On January 20 a few more worthy seniors displayed their talent in a comedy, "Why Shakespeare Wept" written by Miss York. The seniors included: Isabelle Baldwin, Edward Gundersen, Armand Caldeira, Arthur Pappagallo, George Perry, Bill Lotz, Terry Chiarizia, and Gracemarie Harley. Other seniors included Ann Nicolle, Louis Rome and Danny Louro.

These and the many memories of the Senior Banquet, Junior-Senior Prom, Class Night, and Graduation all make the history of our Senior year a pleasant one.

LILLIAN ROTH

WILL OF CLASS OF 1950

We the class of 1950 being of sound (???) mind and body, hereby make this our last will and testament, and thus, bequeath our most treasured possessions to those in the future classes of Bloomfield High School.

Tony Louro leaves his wanderlust ability in the B. H. S. halls to one who can easily fill his shoes, Roger Holcomb.

Nancy Cawte wills her giant bottle of "Sonny" Peroxide to Virginia Jackson, another girl with a head on her shoulders.

Scott Rome leaves his talents of dressing sharply to Jimmy Tyler, so that he may be the "Best Dressed Man of 1951."

Catherine D'Addeo's way with the faculty is bequeathed to Claire Emery, who needs it urgently.

Frank Hall is the sole receiver of Leon Barnard's and Paul Petersen's talents of running a store in 10 easy lessons, (providing your still employed after the first two lessons).

Suzanne Cowles receives Gracemarie Harley's largest container of Giggle Gas, not that she needs it, of course.???

To B. H. S. goes George Perry's father for the future advice of the lower classmen.

Betty Marshall is the recipient of Frances Scully's ingenious talent of witticisms in Economics Class, much to the distress of Mr. Pearlmutter.

Edward Gundersen leaves his long skilled arm for making long shots in basketball to a future B. H. S. star, Andy Kowalsky.

To Eleanor Tomasiello goes Lois Pinney's newest book, "Detention For a Day" or its sequel, "Life CAN Be Beautiful."

For all boys who need help in making eyes at the girls, goes Armand Caldeira's well-known record plus a free copy of "Can You Top This?"

Bob Milvae bequeaths everything to anyone 'cause he can't take it with him where he's going.

Donald Austin wills his ability "to make like a stock car" when driving.

To Nina Kearney goes Terry Chiarizia's ability to "keep smiling" even in her most troubled moments.

Frank Burnham wills his permanent tardy slip into classes to Bobby Bligh, who is falling deep into Frank's footsteps.

Winnie Wilolughby bequeaths her sparkling smile and "nimble fingers" for piano playing in music class to Betty Christ.

Harold Jackson wills his gift of gab in any class to Robert Mayville, a future diplomat.

To Barbara Brown, a cute Junior, goes Alice Talnak's quiet disposition and her final days as a single girl.

Arthur Pappagallo leaves his Charles Atlas muscles (in a box) to Teddy Hood, for future use on the 1950 soccer team.

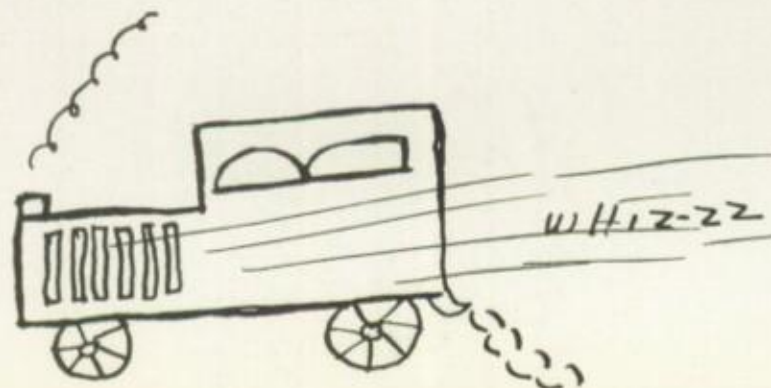

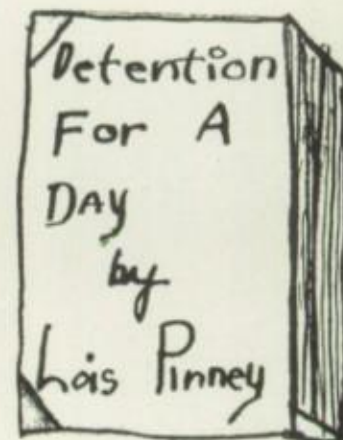

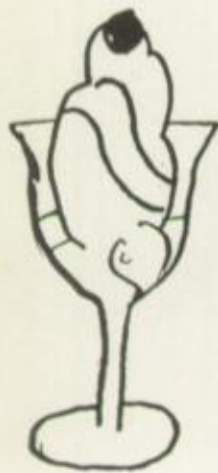

Nadine Ison is the recipient of Ann Nicolle's quiet charm . . . plus.

Louis Rome bequeaths his knack of talking on most any subject in English Class, providing it's baseball, to William Tuttle, another ardent baseball fan.

Barbara Hockert leaves her activeness in church affairs to her sister, Beverly.

Richard Burns bequeaths his quiet suave ways to David Holcomb, a suave Junior.

Joan Plaza wills her flirtatious eyes and contagious giggle to an able competitor, Anna Pires.

Marie Williams leaves to another Marie, Barile that is, her inspiring school spirit on the cheering squad and her curly bangs.

The President of the Junior Class, Bobby Joyce, is the recipient of Bill Velhage's subtle sense of humor and ability to be a good leader all during his four years at B. H. S.

To all good eaters goes Beverly Manion's exquisite cooking.

Freddie Oleskewicz is the receiver of Bill Lotz's smooth talking and convincing conversations which make you buy an extra subscription to the Salmon Sheet, even if you can't read.

Carolyn Lee bequeaths to Rose Reed her little book of excuses on how to get out of doing your homework when you have a date the night before.

Paul Beaupre' is the sole receiver of Danny Louro's lingering line with the ladies and also his little black book for emergency . . . not that he really needs it.

Dorothy Arbo wills her artistic right hand to William Heeber, a future Salmon Sheet artist.

Donald Robertson wills his great piercing memory for remembering things in school to Garet Johnson, who at least thinks of it at the last minute.

Alma Davidson leaves her optimistic spirit even when the going gets tough, to her sister Judy.

Teddy Harger leaves his "Miss America Trophy" and that darling little floral bathing suit for future "HELLZAPOPPIN'" Shows to George Bauer.

Emily Machholz leaves her talents on how to mix up a soda concoction that'll really send you, to Doris Hale, who we hear can really mix things up herself.

To Albert Bertram goes Homer Guilmartin's "secwet twick" of concealing himself in Mr. Pearlmutter's classes so that he won't be called upon to give his special report first.

To Gloria Pignone goes Dorothy Prystula's height to keep her head in the clouds and her feet on the ground.

Donald Labutis inherits Eddy Lynch's "Speedy Touch System" in Typing so that he may type 75 words a minute on his exam; the dreamer).

Our vivacious Jacquelyn Lee bequeaths her winsome ways and walloping wisecracks to one who will make good use of them, Martha Robertson.

To Rae Westdal goes Arline Lucas's 35 hour day so she can squeeze all her activities in.

Dorothy Henderson wills her gay laugh and sociability to Barbara Barrows.

Evelyn Engel leaves her steady hand for turning the mimeograph machine to the coming machine operators who will really need it.

Suzanne Webber is the recipient of Caroline Otkowski's expert baseball ability to really slug 'em.

Merriman Hunt bequeaths his 1:00 P.M. lunch date at Doc Fenton's Restaurant to Ray Dawson who really gets hungry at noon with so many detentions with Mr. Kelloch.

Barbara Madsen wills to Lucille Pauroso her quiet manners and ability to get along well with others.

Gloria Aldrich inherits Barbara Duke's superior and efficient ways that make her the outstanding senior that she is.

To all future comedians and Bob Hope, goes Jimmy Bonvouloir's Million Dollar Joke Book which has kept us really laughing all through four years at B. H. S.

And we, Isabelle Baldwin and Phyllis Atlas, bequeath to our sisters, Charlotte Baldwin and Jacquelyn Atlas, respectively, the ability to get all "A's" on their report cards as we so successfully failed to do.

Signed,

Isabelle Baldwin and
Phyllis Atlas

CLASS BALLAD

Fifty-one seniors
Are bidding good-bye,
To dear, old, wonderful,
Bloomfield High.

Four years have passed
I agree, and yet,
Little things happened
We shall never forget.

Phyllis and Jim
And their "Chevy" divine,
Most certainly had
A wonderful time.

Then there was Jackson,
Bosco, you know,
Where mischief was brewing,
He'd naturally go.

Pleasant to know
And pleasant to see,
Is our own Mary Magno,
Small tho' she be.

Dark curly hair,
And a wonderful grin,
Armand can "wow" 'em,
The fair sex can he win.

Alice and Alma,
Have splendid ideas,
To be good little wives,
Are their future careers.

Our senior class president,
Was none other than Pete,
Barnard, you know,
Just couldn't be beat!

Carrie and Jackie,
Better known as the Lees',
The first gal is quiet,
The seconds' a tease.

Next on our list
Is Scottie and Lou,
Both of them fought,
For the "orange and blue."

A lass who is neat,
Sweet and petite,
For all these fine qualities,
Lillian Roth can't be beat!

Who helps our teams
Rack up their scores,
Why, it's Eddie Gundersen,
Need I say more?

Quiet though she seems
Quiet though she be,
Well-liked by all who know her,
Is Caroline Otkowski.

A jokester, indeed,
Is Bobby Milvae,
We have yet to see him,
With nothing to say.

L—is for Lucas
Known as Arline,
At dances and ball games,
She's sure to be seen.

A journalist fine
Shall Nancy Cawte be,
If you don't believe me,
Just wait and see!

Next we see Homer,
Merriman and Paul,
These three grand lads,
Are enjoyed by all.

For joy or happiness,
Merriment and laughter,
Our own Izzy Baldwin
Is the gal to go after.

Here's to Ann Nicolle,
A cute little gal,
A real true friend,
And a wonderful pal.

Like peas in a pod
Are Burnham and Burns,
At breaking girl's hearts
They each take their turns.

A wonderful person is Barbara Duke,
A fact you probably knew,
And, you will find, as life goes on,
That girls like her are few.

A boy with a mind,
A boy with a will,
It's Velhage, you know,
Oh should I say Bill?

Our Barbara Hockett
Is quite a poet,
Had you heard,
Or didn't you know it?

In future years,
We may find someday,
That dramatic Dot Henderson,
Has the lead in a play.

Gracemarie Harley is known,
Known by her ease and her grace,
Her ballet will bring her far,
Among stars she will soon take her place.

Don Austin,
And even Harger,
Help to make,
The class of fifty larger.

Mischief is her middle name,
On that we all agree,
Frances Scully is the girl
It could only be.

A cheerful worker,
A friend in need,
We sincerely mean Winnie,
A true gem, indeed!

Hair of flaming red,
Twinkling eyes of blue,
Beware, you boys, of Emily,
She'll break your heart in two.

Our three new friendly seniors,
Were Eddie, George, and "Pappy,"
They truly were quite lucky,
With new friends to keep them happy.

As a cheerleader here,
At dear B. H. S.
We know that Dot P.
Ranked as one of the best.

A friend to all,
Who pass her way,
We shall think of Cathy,
For many a day.

One eye on "les femmes"
The other on books,
Why sure it's Dan Louro,
The boy with the looks.

If perchance you pass him,
Someday in the hall,
We know that Tony Louro,
Has a friendly smile for all.

Our cheers go forth to Evelyn,
And Dottie Arbo too,
These girls worked very diligently,
To help the Salmon Sheet through.

Three cheers for Lois Pinney,
One of the liveliest in the class,
For humor and witty sayings,
She just can't be surpassed.

"M" stands for Madsen,
It stands for Manion, too
They're always seen together,
I've seen them, haven't you?

When singers are thought of,
Who comes to mind?
Why, Bill Lotz of course,
He'll leave Caruso behind.

Joan Plaza, indeed,
Is a sweet little miss,
For friendship and loyalty,
Marie Williams can't miss.

Now that I've finished,
I hope you'll agree,
You've enjoyed these small verses,
Written by me.

Terry Chiarizia

CLASS PROPHECY

Scene: Heaven

Time: 2050 A. D.

Finally I'm up here. At last I'll see some of my old friends again; it was so lonesome down on earth with Methuselah the only one anywhere near my age.

As soon as I walked through the Pearly Gates, Saint Peter handed me an application blank to complete, that asked my name and why I deserved to be or want to be in Heaven. Perhaps I can find some application blanks filled in by my B. H. S. classmates.

Discovering a solid gold filing cabinet marked "Class of 1950 — Bloomfield, Connecticut" with "Donated by the Lotz Home Insulation Company" as an all-over pattern, I wondered why Bill wants to advertise up here, when insulation is really needed in another direction. Oh well, let's see. Here is what I find:

Dorothy Arbo — I helped many people with flat feet by inventing Arbo Arches. This comfort saved many nasty words.

Phyllis Atlas — To clean the place is why I came. I've heard so much about the dust here known as stardust.

Donald Austin — How I got here I don't know. The only good deed I can remember doing is opening the door for Richard.

Isabelle Baldwin — I helped many young people in my famous U-Know-Y, where square dancing was held every Tuesday night.

Leon Barnard — My ten wives told me to get out, so I came here.

James Bonvouloir — I wanted to find out if the saying "You can't get to Heaven in a rocking chair" is true, so I tried.

Frank Burnham — I'm here to try out my new invention, the "Heavenicopter," the half sister of the helicopter.

Richard Burns — My name suggests another permanent resting place, but I'd be so lonesome there.

Armand Caldeira — I didn't mean to be here. I guess I should have examined those elevated shoes before I put them on.

Theresa Chiarizia — I came here to get authentic information for my new show, "Heavenzapoppin".

Catherine D'Addeo — My voice is over-worked from cheering. The atmosphere is so quiet here. I thought nobody would notice my silence.

Alma Davidson — My head was always in the clouds, so I thought the rest of me should be, too.

Barbara Duke — I thought I might find some quiet here. Living the life of a Duke isn't easy, you know.

Evelyn Engel — My new book "Came With the Breeze" helped blow away many problems.

Homer Guilmartin — I made everyone's life easier by inventing "Happy Homer's Daffy Duster," guaranteed to lift the rug automatically when you want someplace to put dust.

Edward Gundersen — I came here to play basketball because I know nobody up here would yell "Foul!"

Edward Harger — My exotic compound, "Harger's Hair-Restorer," was the cause of it all. In my house there was no room to walk, it was full of hair!

Gracemarie Harley — While I was performing in the ballet "Duck Pond," I leaped too high — so here I am.

Dorothy Henderson — Also known as Heavenly Henderson. After singing with a bop band, I decided to change to serious music. I'm here singing with the Angelic Choir.

Barbara Hockert — My play "Omelet" was such a success, that I wanted to see it performed everywhere.

Merriman Hunt — My new invention, the "Merricar" brought me here. I didn't know it was so powerful.

Harold Jackson — I went bankrupt trying to promote my "Bosco's Business Book" that thoroughly explained how to make business deals.

Carolyn and Jacquelyn Lee — We were known as the Mmm Sisters. Because we received only $500 per week singing with a well-known bop band, we decided to go where we would really be appreciated.

William Lotz — I'm just here to take orders in case my file brings any customers.

Anthony and Daniel Louro — Famous comedy team, often appearing as the Ritz Crackers and booked with the Ritz Brothers. We thought even angels would like to laugh sometimes.

Arlene Lucas — I made the world sweeter with the Lucas' Lollies. Children just adored them.

Edward Lynch — I have made a study of the heavens and would like to get closer to Venus. I hear she's quite a gal.

Emily Machholz — I came here to give some lessons in soda-jerking. Even angels must want a coke once in a while.

Barbara Madsen — I just read the book, "Leave Her to Heaven" and I want to know what she was in for.

Mary Magno — No one kissed me when I turned 100, so I came up here to be sunkist.

Beverly Manion — I bought some Heaven-Sent Cologne and I wanted to know why it smelled that way.

Robert Milvae — I'm here to compete with my father. Perhaps I can be Heaven Clerk, instead of Town Clerk.

Ann Nicolle — I'm here to make Heaven richer. Now there will not be just pennies from Heaven but also Nicolles.

Caroline Otkowski — Since I was a fashion expert with Sacks—10th Avenue, I needed to know the exact shade of heavenly blue. Can you think of a better place to find out?

Arthur Pappagallo — I was always fond of sliding down bannisters. Here I can slide down the rainbow.

George Perry — My discovery of what happens when an immovable object meets an irresistible force resulted in my decapitation. Here I am—body and soul.

Paul Petersen — I'm here to distribute my P&P Popular Products that make your pulse palpitate. I specialize in popcorn, potatoes, peanuts, pears, etc.

Lois Pinney — My most important deed was confessing that I put the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's chowder.

Joan Plaza — When I became 100, my giggles stopped and I became extremely serious. I want to spread my dignity here.

Dorothy Prystula — Dottie's Delicious Dumplings were my specialty. They satisfied many enormous appetites.

Donald Robertson — I played the piano for the Bloomfield Symphony and I'm here to play the harp.

Lewis Rome — I'm here to introduce my new song, "Where Are You?" or "Reno Is Getting Closer All The Time."

Nathan Rome — Because I was the "Best Dressed Man of 1950" I'd like to share my talents with the masculine angels. So here I am.

Lillian Roth — All my life I helped cure people with my "Roth's Remedies". Yesterday I took some — here I am.

Frances Scully — I'm here to rest, because for fifty years, I've been examining records for Mr. F. Pearlmutter and even then he gave me only a B.

Alice Talnak — I just wanted to see if the stars sparkled as brightly as my diamond.

William Velhage — All my life I have made startling mathematical discoveries. Now I am on a universal search for the fifth dimension.

Henry Weaver-Bey — I organized Bey's Bop Band featuring the Mmm Sisters and Heavenly Henderson. I was my greatest patron.

Marie Williams — My WXYZ Corporation (Williams X-cellent Yellow Zinc) revolutionized science. I brought some to make the stars brighter.

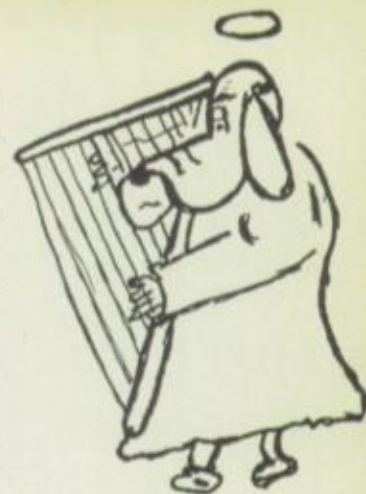

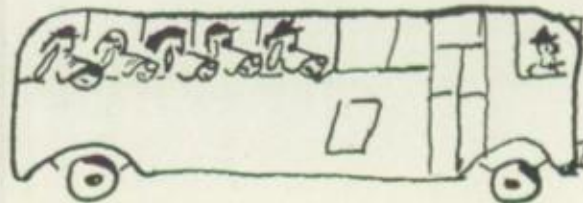

Winifred Willoughby — I did Margaret Truman a favor by accompanying her when her pianist-father came to Bloomfield to lay the cornerstone for the new high school.

What brainy classmates I had! What can I write beside my name on this application blank. Oh, I know.

Nancy Cawte — I wrote a class prophecy taking place here, so I thought I should see what it's really like.

THE END

AMBITION IN LIFE

To be a social worker
Be a medical secretary
To be a florist
To stay like I am
To have a large family
To play with the N. Y. Yankees
To be a comedian
None at all
To own a new Cadillac
To be intelligent
To reach 100
To please Daddy
To reach 150 pounds
To finish making my first million
To own a modern style ranch home
Fashion designer
Can't tell
To be a millionaire
To live a long time
To play with the Detroit Tigers
To see my first million
To travel around the world
The usual
To have a fifteen room house
To see N. K. be serious for one week
To be a teacher
Be a dancing teacher
To be a secretary
To watch the world go by
To beat Frances at checkers
To be a June bride
To see Yankees beat Red Sox every time
Power
To be a success
To have a good time
To have a $1,000,000
To own a Lincoln
President of you know what
To have a long happy life
To loaf
To stay single
To be a nurse
To have extra money
To have a beautiful wife
To have a farm and raise dogs
To go to Sweden
Electrician
To see the world
To make life a success
To make a million
To be an October bride

FROM DARKNESS INTO DAYLIGHT

Stars in the heavenly darkness,
I seek from thee thy light.
Your beauty brings the sweetness,
The loveliness of this night.

Stillness creeps from the shadows,
Coming hither into the dawn,
As on its way it harkens to meet
The hiding sun's bright gleaming feet.

Now as the sun starts to appear,
Bringing forth a day which now draws near.
From darkness into daylight a new day has begun,
Ready now, welcome here comes the sun.

GIFTS

Time before Christmas is flying by,
And what'll I get? Oh me, oh my!
I'll get a pair of longies for Pop,
And a new head for Mom's old mop.
And now because she walks with a shudder,
I'll buy a girdle for poor old Grandmother.
And for Granddad who suffers so,
As he often says, "more than you'll ever know."
I'll get him some famous Van Dorn's,
Footpads for his aching feet and corns.
Now for little brother, last and least,
The dear, precious, darling little beast.
I'll give him back those little red ants,
So he can put them in somebody else's pants.
This poem is silly, I admit,
But I only wrote it for the fun of it.

SOCCER

Bloomfield High's soccer team of 1949 was great. Nine letter men turned out for the coming soccer season: Captain Armand Caldeira, Scott Rome, Teddy Hood, Danny Louro, Roosevelt Holt, Bob Bligh, Richard Cowles and Jim Tyler. Combined with some promising sophomores, there was the makings of a winning team.

Bloomfield's first game was with East Hampton, one of the better teams of the league. This game ended in a 1-1 tie with Bill Tuttle getting Bloomfield's lone goal. Bloomfield gained its first victory by downing Portland, 2-0, with Captain Caldeira and Bill Tuttle scoring the goals. We next met the strong 1948 champs, Glastonbury, at home. The outcome was 1-0 as Bob Bligh drove in his first goal of the season. Bloomfield suffered its first and only loss in a non-league game at Cheshire Academy. Cheshire, using boys from Latin America, who really knew the game, scored 3 goals in the last few minutes of play. The score was 3-0. Goals by Armand Caldeira and Bill Tuttle enabled us to defeat Suffield, 2-0. In our next game we again tied East Hampton, 1-1 on Bob Bligh's goal. With Captain Caldeira starring and scoring all 3 goals, Bloomfield conquered Portland, 3-2. We acquired another 1-1 tie when we met a determined Glastonbury team. In our next game we traveled to Ellsworth to meet our traditional foe. This one turned out to be a tough one, but we came out victoriously 3-2 on goals again by Armand Caldeira, Bill Tuttle and Bob Bligh. Bloomfield tied Suffield 0-0 and won the Central Valley League Championship for the first time since the league was reorganized in 1946. Our league mark was 4 wins and 4 ties. Our over all record was 5 wins, 1 lost, and 5 ties. In our last game before entering the C. I. A. C. Tournament we played an exciting nip and tuck 3-3 tie with Ellsworth. The trio, Caldeira, Tuttle and Bligh, once more scored all the goals.

SOCCER TOURNAMENT

Bloomfield met a good Nathan Hale-Ray High School team in the first game on November 7, of the C. I. A. C. Tournament. Captain Armand Caldeira scored in the second period and Bloomfield went on to win, 1-0.

On November 9, we met Ellsworth High in the Tournament finals. Ellsworth scored first at the start of the third period. We fought back quickly with goals by Captain Caldeira and Ronnie Pitz. Ellsworth deadlocked the game at 2 all, thus sending it into overtime. After two three minute overtimes neither team could score, but Ellsworth was awarded the game on the basis that they had 4 corner kicks to our 1. It was a very discouraging ending for such a fine season.

1st row, left to right—A. Kowalsky, N. Rome, E. Gundersen—Captain, T. Hood, R. Joyce, Coach Paterno.

BASKETBALL

For the first game Bloomfield traveled to Berlin and emerged victorious (44-19), holding the home team to a lone field goal. On our first home game we breezed by Portland (52-29). Next we journeyed to Canton and defeated a stubborn Canton team (61-45) with Captain Ed Gundersen tossing in 28 points. For our next home game we defeated Simsbury in a torrid contest (46-39). Previously undefeated Ellsworth was our next victory (40-30) in comparatively easy fashion.

We kept our perfect slate by subduing Glastonbury (51-27). Suffield came next where we defeated the home forces (41-29) with Gundersen and Kowalsky leading the attack. We gained our eighth in a row by whipping East Hampton (59-38). Our first defeat came at the hands of Windsor Locks (50-41) in a contest which was won at the foul line.

In our second swing around the circuit, we again defeated Berlin (48-36). With Andy Kowalsky leading the attack we edged Portland (42-31).

In one of the best played games of the season we again defeated Ellsworth (45-38) with Gundersen and Kowalsky doing the damage with 19 and 18 points respectively. Bloomfield then romped to its 12th victory by trouncing Canton (64-34). We continued our winning ways by outshooting a tough Simsbury quintet (57-44).

Glastonbury became our 14th victim in a close game (45-38). Suffield spelled Bloomfield's fifteenth win by a score of (62-44). Our next game, East Hampton, was cancelled but our last game, an all important one, we lost (44-37) to Windsor Locks. Despite this loss, though, we captured the Central Valley League Championship for the fourth straight year with 13 wins and 2 defeats.

TOURNAMENT

Bloomfield entered the 1950 Tournament rated third with a good chance to take all honors. The Gold and Blue looked as good as they were panned out to be by trouncing Woodstock High 64 to 45. This victory enabled us to enter the quarter finals where we met a determined Stafford team. Going into the third quarter, Bloomfield was trailing by fourteen points. It took a great last quarter splurge and some fine playing by Jim Tyler, Andy Kowalsky, and Ed. Gundersen to bring us to a winning end of 49 to 43. Ellsworth, a team whom we had beaten twice in regular season play, was our opponent in the semi-finals. Everything seemed to go wrong for the Bloomfield team while, on the contrary, everything went right for Ellsworth. Bloomfield played one of its worst games of the season and ended up on a short end of a 51 to 28 score.

Although Bloomfield looked bad in its last game, the boys have nothing to be ashamed of, for they had a wonderful season record of 17 wins and only 3 losses.

To Our New Principal

We the Senior Class join in thanking our new principal, Mr. Perry, for making our last year at Bloomfield High one of the most pleasant and profitable. In the short time Mr. Perry has been with us, he has done much to improve our school. He has installed a new marking system, a recess period, and has made school activities more orderly by setting aside a period every Friday as Activity Period. He organized a seating plan for assemblies and has also shown a desire to add new subjects to the curriculum. Under his direction, real school spirit has been organized. We all know the immense job facing Mr. Perry and wish him the best of luck.
